

Personnel Development Programmes

As your business grows it is inevitable that a number of your team will need to develop skills and learn about areas of the business they have not been involved in before. Even if it is only becoming aware of the effect that changes in legislation has and what it means from a practical point of view this is an area of your Business' Development that you can not ignore.

The Redarch Personnel Development programme has two elements:

1. After a detailed discussion and possibly a review of the business' training needs we will construct a team development programme to suit your operations to be delivered at a time and over a period to suit your operations as far as possible without effecting day-to-day activities.
2. Redarch constantly review changes in regulations and where they see that one could affect your business they will inform you and design an information and/or training session to ensure your key personnel are aware of their changing responsibilities.

At Redarch we are aware that you and your team are busy getting the work done and do not have spare time to read extensive text books and/or spend hours trawling through computers, so we employ experienced business people to deliver 'jargon free,' support in plain English, so regardless of the level of personnel that join the programme they will be able to understand and develop their individual and collective skills with simple notes to take away to act as reminders.

If you would like to know more about any of our development programmes then please do not hesitate to contact us on 01376 573767

N.B. Redarch always use 'Plain English' developing Real Growth and Optimising Potential, keeping things simple, knowing that your success is ours also.
